WHY CHOOSE VEKA PVCU DOORS

PVCu doors are a popular option for homeowners looking for a balance of style, practicality, and performance. Known for being durable, thermally efficient, and low-maintenance, PVCu is a robust material that is designed to resist rot, warping, and fading – making it well-suited to varying British weather conditions.

Whether you're improving garden access, exploring a more refined patio look, or looking to open up larger spaces with a modern bi-fold, VEKA's range of PVCu doors offers versatile options to suit different homes, preferences, and budgets.

BUILT TO PERFORM. MADE TO LAST.

ENERGY EFFICIENT.

VEKA PVCu doors feature multi-chambered frames and glazing options designed to support insulation and help maintain comfortable temperatures throughout the year.

LOW MAINTENANCE.

Unlike some timber or metal options, VEKA's PVCu doors are designed to resist warping, rot, and the need for repainting. An occasional wipe down helps keep them looking good over time.

HIGHLY SECURE.

Equipped with security-tested locking systems, VEKA Doors are PAS 24 and Secured by Design for enhanced specifications.

COLOUR & STYLE CHOICE.

From clean whites to woodgrains and contemporary greys, our broad selection of finishes and hardware options allows you to personalise your doors to suit your home.

SUSTAINABLE BY DESIGN.

VEKA products are made from PVCu that can be recycled and are designed for long-term use, supporting material reuse while maintaining their strength and appearance.
